

THOUSANDS HEAR MCGUIRE AT EL RENO

Enthusiasm Over the Popular
Candidate Boundless.

REID INTRODUCED HIM

Telling Why People of Oklahoma Should be for Him.

El Reno, O. T., Oct. 17.—The opera house in this city was packed to its utmost capacity tonight to accommodate the people who assembled to greet Bird S. McGuire, the Republican candidate for delegate to congress. It was one of the big political meetings of the year in Canadian county. The enthusiasm was unprecedented. Persons affiliated with all political parties were in the audience. Regardless of party, the people of El Reno and surrounding country united in giving the Republican nominee a splendid welcome.

It was an audience that gathered early. Before the time for the meeting the El Reno band gave an entertaining concert in front of the opera house. The main auditorium of the building was filled with people before Mr. McGuire appeared. It was an assemblage thoroughly representing the good class of citizenship that has caused Canadian county to force to the front among the counties of Oklahoma.

When Mr. McGuire appeared on the stage he was greeted by a storm of applause, which lasted for several minutes. Judge C. A. Bonister, territorial commissioner, called the meeting to order, stating that the people of Canadian county were pleased to have the next delegate to congress, Bird S. McGuire, with them. After a short speech of short duration he introduced Thomas R. Reid, receiver of the El Reno land office, who presented Mr. McGuire to the audience.

In his introductory speech Mr. Reid said, in part:

"I have the pleasure of introducing a very distinguished guest in the person of Bird S. McGuire, a citizen of Oklahoma. I am for him first because of his personality. I believe that he has the brains, honesty and integrity to worthily wear the robes soon to be bestowed upon him. McGuire is a little giant. Mr. Dennis T. Flynn, during the past twelve years he has done much for Oklahoma, and I believe Bird S. McGuire a worthy successor. I am for him second, because of the issue he represents, being an Oklahoman, for Oklahoma, representing the idea of immediate statehood along the lines of the El Reno school. I want to vote for that solid statehood president. Theodore Roosevelt, Democrats, you should vote for statehood. You should vote for statehood. You have been boosting other persons, now, in this campaign, vote for yourself and see how it seems."

After the enthusiastic applause he introduced Mr. McGuire. McGuire began his speech, and devoted the greater portion of his time to statehood, discussing in detail what immediate statehood would mean to the people of this territory. At times spontaneous applause resulted when some sentiment expressed by the speaker pleased the audience. The school matter was taken up. Mr. McGuire logically and forcibly showing that it is to the interest of the school land lease to vote for immediate statehood. In order to settle conditions in regard to the school land may be brought about. The plank in the Democratic platform referring to mixed schools was referred to. Mr. McGuire said that on this matter, and then showed up the duplicity of the Democratic nominee in the speeches made by him in various sections of the territory. McGuire said that he would support the Republican candidate in his speech, lasting one hour and thirty minutes.

There is a decided sentiment in El Reno and this county for immediate statehood.

WILL INTEREST EVERYBODY

Or At Least Everyone Who Suffers From Catarrh.

Catarrh in its various forms is a national disease, and the fact that nearly everybody suffers from it more or less leads many to neglect its proper treatment.

Nasal catarrh is a common cause of headaches, destroys sense of smell and if neglected reaches the throat, causing impairment and sometimes total loss of voice. Bronchitis, catarrh leads easily to consumption. Catarrh of stomach and liver are very serious and obstinate troubles, while it is now generally admitted that catarrh is the most common of all causes of deafness.

All of the more serious forms of catarrh begin with nasal catarrh, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge, sneezing, irritation and frequent clearing of the throat, sneezing, coughing and gagging.

The old style of treatment with douches, inhalers, sprays, aches, etc., simply give temporary relief and everyone who has used any of them knows how useless they are and their ineffectiveness is such that very few have the time or patience to continue their use.

A radical cure of catarrh can only be obtained from a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood because no one will now dispute that catarrh is a constitutional or blood disease, and local application can have no effect except to temporarily relieve local symptoms.

A new remedy which has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is a pleasant tasting tablet which is taken internally and acts upon the blood and mucous membranes.

It is composed of antiseptic remedies like red gum, blood root and similar cleansing specifics which eliminate the catarrhal poison from the system.

The tablets being pleasant to the taste are dissolved in the mouth and then reach the throat, trachea and finally the stomach and entire alimentary canal. They are sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

If desired, when there is much stoppage of the nose, the tablets may be dissolved in warm water and used as a douche in addition to internal use, but a douche is not at all necessary. A few dissolved in the mouth will be sufficient. Dr. Amies says: "The regular daily use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets taken internally will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche or an inhaler."

They seem to give a healthy tone to the whole mucous membrane and it is really remarkable how soon they will clear the head and throat of the unnatural and poisonous catarrhal secretion.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is undoubtedly the safest, most palatable and certainly the most efficient and convenient remedy for any form of catarrh.

hood, and this feeling is not merely confined to Republicans. Many Democrats prior to Mr. McGuire's coming had ascertained that they would vote for him. Their number was increased by many more members of the same party who heard the Republican idea of statehood tonight.

Republicans are jubilant over conditions in this county and the telling speech made tonight by Mr. McGuire was enthusiastic to the people of all parties who are for Oklahoma's advancement.

It is what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story of its merit. Hood's cures.

PROTECTIONISTS OF PROPERTY

Anti-Horse Thief Association in Session at Shawnee, O. T.

Shawnee, O. T., Oct. 17.—The annual meeting of the Anti-Horse Thief association of Oklahoma and Indian territory began here today. More than 300 delegates are present. Every county in Oklahoma and every nation in the Indian territory is represented. President Kirkwood, James G. Brown, of Sheridan and James Young, of Bristow, spoke on the work of last year. The meeting then adjourned. At 1:30 o'clock the session of the annual meeting. More than 300 men were in line this afternoon. The procession was led by a platoon of mounted police, followed by the Shawnee Silver Cornet band; the president, secretary and members of the executive committee in carriages and the lodge members on horseback. The secret business session of the association began at 3 o'clock tonight.

It is probable that the organization will frame important legislation which they will ask for at the coming session of the legislature. At 1:30 o'clock the session of the annual meeting. More than 300 men were in line this afternoon. The procession was led by a platoon of mounted police, followed by the Shawnee Silver Cornet band; the president, secretary and members of the executive committee in carriages and the lodge members on horseback. PRESIDENT STRONG INSTALLED

President Hadley of Yale Was One of the Orators of the Occasion.

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 17.—Frank Strong, former president of the Oregon State university, was today installed as chancellor of the University of Kansas. The exercises were largely attended by the alumni and several noted educators were present. Arthur Hadley, president of the University of Oregon, president of the board of regents, President Hadley was warmly applauded when he appeared. He said in part: "President Hadley of Yale, guest upon the purpose of the American university, pointing out that the functions were different in various sections of the country. We are now passing from a university, one regarding it as a coping stone to secondary education, and the other as a place for laying the foundation for professional education. The college is no longer a mere stepping stone to a university, but a place of technical schools as the case in Germany. The old college course is making the idea of general culture count for less in comparison with that of practical preparation for the duties of life. There are some who hold that the college may be able to maintain its position as a university, but many of the most progressive university men would have every student who enters a school of theology, law or medicine show a college degree. President Hadley will be sympathized with the purpose underlying these efforts could not believe that it represented the true solution of the problem. If you require a college degree from every professional student, you prevent the college degree from representing more than the necessary minimum which can be fairly imposed upon every professional student. By enforcing it upon those who do not want it, you diminish its value to those who really do want it."

"We should seek for the solution of our university problem not in the hollowed addition of a German course to an English one, but in a combination of the English spirit with the German organization. The great thing that the English college has always done and the great thing that the best American institutions are doing in their college courses, is to lead the students to value some other ideal than the mere acquisition of a degree."

To effect this combination will task the best efforts of the leaders of American education, but they are destined to accomplish it. For its accomplishment the fullest interchange of mind and ideas between different localities and different sections is an absolute essential. May the time be not far distant when there shall rise the world of education, one of all the divergences of thought, some man or some men who can lead us to the realization of national ideals as popular and yet as profound, as practical and yet as unselfish, as those which revealed themselves to the political vision of Abraham Lincoln.

DOCTRINE OF APPROPRIATION

Is Set Up By Colorado Lawyers Against Kansas Completion.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 17.—The copy of Colorado to the suit of Kansas over the waters of the Arkansas river is complete and will be filed in the supreme court at Washington next week. The brief court the entire history of irrigation legislation in the United States and bases its plea for Colorado's right to the use of the Arkansas waters on the doctrine of appropriation. The absolute supremacy of this doctrine in all matters of irrigation is argued.

HORACE SPEED SENDS OUT AN ABLE LETTER

Relative to Lessees and the Statehood Bill.

DEFINES FLYNN'S POSITION

Says Little Giant Has Been the Friend of the Lessees.

Guthrie, O. T., Oct. 17.—The following letter written by United States Attorney Speed of this city to Colonel Tom Seward of Perry appears in the Daily News of that city:

The men who are concerned in the statehood matter as lessees of the school and public lands have been so persistently misinformed and the working of the statehood bill has been so persistently misquoted, that it has been deemed best to have ten thousand copies of the official bill printed, so it passed the house and is now pending before the senate, and the secretary of the territory has carefully compared the original bill with the printed, and certifies to the correctness of the printed bill, and I assure you that it is correct. This bill as it passed the house, and is now pending before the senate, is not like the bill as published and certified by Secretary Grimes, and which are for the special benefit of the lessees of those lands.

To show the usual form, I quote from the twenty-third United States statute at large, 578, which is the act providing for the admission of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington, on February 2, 1889. Section 11 of that act provides that all lands heretofore granted for educational purposes shall be disposed of only at public sale, and at a price not less than $10 per acre, the proceeds to constitute a permanent school fund for the benefit of the public schools of the territory. The act of the admission of Wyoming, on July 10, 1890, is in the twenty-sixth statute at large, passed by the first session of that act provides as follows:

"Section 5. That all lands heretofore granted for educational purposes shall be disposed of only at public sale, the proceeds to constitute a permanent school fund, the interest of which shall be expended in the support of said schools."

The general plan was pursued in admitting the states heretofore named, wherever the states contained school lands, and the substance of those provisions to be incorporated in those bills, because the custom was recognized by Congress at right, and would not be departed from. In his anxiety, however, to do everything possible for this territory, Mr. Flynn obtained the insertion of some additional clauses in the provision of the act of the admission of the territory as follows:

"First: There is no minimum price fixed at which the land can be sold. The whole matter is put in charge of the state."

"Third: A preference right is given to every man who ever quartered a school section and thirty-six and thirteen and thirty-three."

"Our statehood bill as passed by the house of representatives, and now pending in the senate, under an agreement that it shall be voted on in December, is numbered 12,543, and as to these matters provides as follows:

"Section 9. That said sections sixteen and thirty-six, and thirty-three, in lieu thereof heretofore granted for the support of the common schools, shall be disposed of only at public sale, preference right being given to the lessee at the time of such sale."

"Section 10. That said sections thirteen and thirty-three, as aforesaid, when sold, shall be disposed of to the public at public sale, the proceeds to be paid to the lessee at the time of such sale."

A short statement therefore of the public land matters is that this is the most favorable bill ever presented to congress for the lessees.

Second: The method and the terms upon which the sale shall be made are left wholly and entirely to the state, except that the preference right is expressed to be given to the lessee at the time of such sale, and to the lessee at the time of such sale."

Any man who attempts to misunderstand how land is to be disposed of, or who who the proceeds of the sale shall be paid to the lessee at the time of such sale, is not honestly reading the bill, or cannot understand printed language. The lessees have a preference right as to every one of those sections. There is no provision in the bill that there shall be a public auction as to other sections sixteen or thirty-six, or thirteen and thirty-three, or that there shall be a public sale of sixteen or thirty-six, or thirteen and thirty-three, at which the land must be sold to the highest bidder without regard to the rights of the lessee, but on the contrary, the bill explicitly declares that the lands shall be disposed of as the legislature of said state may provide.

There has never been a case where the school lands of a state have been sold, and the rights of the lessees have not been protected by the laws of the state. Our contention is that the lessees' rights will be better protected under the laws of a state formed of Oklahoma, and where the Oklahoma vote will control than under the laws of a state formed of Oklahoma and the Indian territory where the vote of the Indian territory will control as to the lands in Oklahoma and not one acre of them in the Indian territory.

Mr. Flynn has done many good things for Oklahoma, he has helped many people more than he has helped the lessees by this bill."

OKLAHOMA WOMAN KILLED

Her Husband and Sister Were Witnesses and Case Is Mysterious.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 17.—The killing of Mrs. N. E. Sammon at the Rose ranch, near Grant, fifty miles northwest of Cheyenne, is surrounded by very suspicious circumstances. She was shot through the heart with a shotgun, her husband and Mrs. Brice, her sister, being the only witnesses. Sammon and Mrs. Brice claiming the killing was accidental, but the coroner will hold an inquest.

Mrs. Sammon and her husband had been separated for several months. She arrived at Grant Wednesday, claiming that her husband had sent to Oklahoma for her. She seemed very dissatisfied and unhappy, and had been with her husband but a few hours when the killing occurred. Her 3-year-old son is with his father, and two other children, also, a boy of 2 years and a girl of 6, are in Oklahoma.

who work them are members of the United Mine Workers of America, men who determined to stand to the last for their right to organize and through their organization to demand better wages and improved conditions of employment. Deprivation, misrepresentation and troops together were not sufficient to drive them into surrender. They stood shoulder to shoulder to the last. The operators declared they would have nothing to do with the United Mine Workers of America, but they have found it necessary to recognize the power of the United Mine Workers of America through you, Mr. President, and to seek terms of peace which will enable them to resume their business of mining and selling coal. The recognition of our strength, thus forced upon the operators by stern necessity, we exult over, not in any narrow spirit, but because we believe it marks a forward step toward a new era. Upon the foundations laid through war we are ready to join with them in building a better condition and a long and lasting peace. The United Mine Workers of America, since its organization in the anthracite fields, has constantly sought to establish: First, fair wages and just conditions of labor, conditions just to both operators and miners. We never made demands beyond the ability of the industry to pay on a basis of equitable division of profits between labor and capital. Second, amicable relations between employers and employees, the latter speaking through their organization and their organizing aiding the companies in maintaining discipline, adjusting all difficulties by conciliatory methods, averting local strikes and lockouts and securing stable and satisfactory conditions to the industry. Our organization by the same methods which we have proposed here has secured just such results and just such results in the coal fields of the country. Organization, like an individual must stand upon what it has done and the life it has lived. We invite scrutiny and investigation of our record and character. In the soft coal fields we have held conferences with the operators and with them we adjust differences, we sign joint agreements, together we preserve discipline, settle disputes and maintain harmony and stability in the trade. We have asked the anthracite operators to require of coal operators how well they are pleased with their business relations with us, whether or not we keep agreements and render satisfactory service for wages paid to our members. One business man might thus trust another, what is the character of our organization. Many soft coal operators have publicly declared that they would not discontinue with our co-operation and would deem it a disaster if they were to be back to the chaotic conditions which existed when their labor was unorganized. Upon our past record we are willing to stand or fall. We have such confidence in our organization, together we preserve discipline, settle disputes and maintain harmony and stability in the trade. We have asked the anthracite operators to require of coal operators how well they are pleased with their business relations with us, whether or not we keep agreements and render satisfactory service for wages paid to our members. One business man might thus trust another, what is the character of our organization. Many soft coal operators have publicly declared that they would not discontinue with our co-operation and would deem it a disaster if they were to be back to the chaotic conditions which existed when their labor was unorganized. Upon our past record we are willing to stand or fall. We have such confidence in our organization, together we preserve discipline, settle disputes and maintain harmony and stability in the trade.
